Attention: Unfortunately, we are unable to deliver new orders before May / June 2020!

Dear customers,
Dear interested parties,

In view of the spread of the corona virus and the resulting sickness, an unprecedented effort is being demanded of our society as a whole.

We, the company E-proPLAST GmbH, are among the so-called systemically relevant companies. We are currently directing almost our entire capacity towards the production of PET bottles for filling disinfectants and liquid soaps. Our production and all of our employees are working in special shifts 24 hours, 7 days a week to meet our society's needs and to supply the market with these vital products during such a critical time.

In normal times, we are known for our flexibility. In exceptional times, however, this flexibility becomes compromised.

Please understand that we are working through our internal crisis plan according to the following priorities:

- 1) Protection of our employees and their families.
- 2) In order to prevent any contagions, we have tightened our internal precautions for existing hygiene regulations (HACCP) and have adapted personal contact behavior.
- 3) We are ensuring delivery to our existing customers, first and foremost.
- 4) If possible, we are also supplying new customers.

We have installed home office workstations for part of our workforce. Additionally, we have invested in expanded video-conferencing opportunities at short notice.

Please understand that given these circumstances, we are currently unable to answer to or service inquiries and orders with less than 25,000 bottles. Of course we will keep you up-to-date as soon as the situation changes again. For now, however, we assume that this change will not take place before May / June 2020.

We thank you for your understanding and most importantly, we wish you to stay healthy.
